Nineteenth Sunday
after Pentecost
20 October 2019

WELCOME! Whether you are visiting St John's for the first time, come every week, or have been away from the Church for a long time, we're glad that you're here and we hope you will join with us after the 10:00 am Eucharist for refreshments in the Rutherford Room.

We encourage you to participate fully in the service, in singing, and in the prayers.

Newcomers are encouraged to complete a Visitors Card and to return it a Welcomer. You may inscribe the names of friends in need and the beloved dead in the Intercession Book at the rear of the Church, so we can pray for them throughout the year.

MEDITATION: On perseverance ...

A hermit had persevered for thirty years. One day he said to himself, 'I have now spent so many years here and I have had not vision and performed no miracle as did the Fathers who were monks before me'. And he was tempted to go back into the world. Then he was told, 'What miracle do you want to perform that would be more extraordinary than the patience and courage God has given you and which allowed you to persevere for so long?'
